

DRASTIC ACTION TAKEN BY THE SOUTH SIDERS ON SUBWAY MATTER

Resolution Adopted to Have Safety Director Enforce Speed Ordinance Regulating Steam Roads

WILL REDUCE RATE TO SIX MILES AN HOUR

People are Earnest in This Matter, and Propose to Stand No More Dilly-Dallying on the Part of the Railroad Companies—The Subway Will Be Built.

There is an old saying that "great bodies move slowly," and what is true in the physical world has its counterpart in all other lines of activity. Any great reform has its small beginning, and before it can rise to the dignity of a dominant force, meets all kinds of opposition and set-backs.

The building of subways over the railroad crossing in Newark is the greatest proposition this city has ever undertaken, and the situation has been resolutely faced and intelligently grasped by the South Side Citizens' Association, which before long will number in its membership and co-operation not only every citizen of that part of the city, but practically the whole of Newark.

These people are in earnest and mean to have these subways. Besides the material slowness of bringing such a big proposition to an actuality, the promoters of the improvement have been hampered at every point and in ways dark and devious, by the railroad companies, which will have to bear 65 per cent of the cost of the improvement.

These companies, B. & O. especially have been dilly-dallying, promising, procrastinating until the point was reached that some drastic action had to be taken to "bring them to time."

The authority of the city is unquestioned, and the position taken by those who have been fighting for the subways is impregnable. Lawful power and moral right are on their side, and when a thoroughly organized movement gets going, no power under heaven can stop it, and the subways will be built.

There are some who supinely sit and think that the railroads have been governing the city for so long that they have an inalienable right to continue their domination, but these are not to be numbered among the men who will be behind the movement. These men have the true perspective of the situation, and plainly see and understand that the city is supreme in its government, and that the railroads must obey the laws just the same as the individual, and action has been taken that will open the eyes of the officials of these companies to the fact that they must get together and talk business to the city of Newark, without subterfuge or persiflage.

Drastic action was taken by the South Side Citizens' Association at its regular meeting Friday night, and it is expected that its effect will be almost immediate.

President W. E. Miller called the meeting to order, and after a little general discussion the following resolution introduced by City Auditor Wulffhoop was adopted:

Whereas, the conditions existing in the various railroad crossings in the City of Newark, and especially those of the South Side, are a menace to life and limb;

Whereas, such menace is enhanced and made more dangerous by the non-observance of the speed laws, which non-observance has cost the lives of many of our citizens within the past few years, therefore

Be it resolved by the South Side Citizens' Association of the City of Newark, Ohio, that the Director of Public Safety be petitioned to strictly enforce the speed laws and the laws regulating the blocking of crossings for more than five minutes, until such time as the proper relief and protection are given to the citizens of Newark, Ohio. City Auditor Wulffhoop informed the meeting that City Solicitor Roderic Jones had written the B. & O. authorities advising them that the activities of the South end of the city in regard to the subways had reached the point where if some steps were not taken the company looking to the elimination of the dangerous grade crossings, which were a menace to the lives of all the citizens of Newark, the speed ordinances would be enforced to the letter.

train will be compelled to observe this limit.

It was the sense of the meeting that the time had come to do something that would bring the railroads, the Baltimore & Ohio, especially, to a realization of the fact that conditions as they exist with regard to the crossings in the city had become intolerable, and that there remained a way to compel them to give some relief in the matter, with a view of finally having them come across with their legal and moral share of the expense of the subways.

There is no question in the minds of those in a position to know that the Baltimore & Ohio has been using every means it can devise to hinder, delay and obstruct this subway proposition, and the letters sent to both companies are intended to inform them of the determination in the matter, with the further intent of having the Pennsylvania, which is not so recalcitrant as the B. & O., come to an understanding and relieve all parties concerned.

The above resolution was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted.

WILL FILE TEST SUIT IN COURT

Prominent Attorneys Seek to Show Special Election Was Invalid

HOGAN SAYS IT IS LEGAL

Supreme Court May Give Opinion If Case is Submitted on Agreed Statement.

Columbus, Sept. 14.—The special election on the amendments was legal according to the opinion of Attorney General Hogan today. Although the contention that the legislature had no authority to delegate power to the constitutional convention to fix the day for a special election may be well grounded, according to Mr. Hogan, it had the power to direct the convention to submit the matter to the electors of the state.

"The legislature did not delegate power to the convention," he said, "it merely directed the convention to submit the matter to the electors of the state at such a time as it might determine the essentials of the matter if submitted and not the time. Time is a mere incident. The legislature has no power to delegate authority, but this was not authority. All that is required by Section 3, Article I is the submission to the electors of the state and does not fix the time or matter. That is left to the general direction of the legislature, and the legislature gave such general direction."

With reference to the contention of some that a majority of the vote cast on all amendments is needed for the ratification of any of the amendments, Mr. Hogan said: "I have not investigated that feature as yet, but I am inclined to the belief that a majority vote cast on any proposal is all that is needed for ratification."

Columbus, O., Sept. 14.—Decision to attack the constitutional amendments adopted at the special election held on Sept. 3 has been reached. Arrangements are now being made to bring a test suit in the supreme court of Ohio.

It is quite possible that the method of attack employed will be a prayer for a restraining order against Governor Judson Harmon to prohibit him from proclaiming the result of the vote upon the successful proposals.

There will be two separate assaults upon the validity of the results of the election.

The first is that amendments said to be adopted did not receive a majority of all the votes cast at the election. The second is that the law providing for the operation of the Ohio constitutional convention was itself unconstitutional.

When the general assembly pretended to delegate power to the convention to fix the time and manner for the election it exceeded its powers, say the opponents of the work. This action, they assert, was a delegation of legislative power, which is not permissible under the constitution.

The preparation of the petition is in the hands of a number of attorneys in this city, who represent the interests which financed and directed the warfare against the amendments during the campaign just ended.

The statement was made Friday that Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan would be called upon shortly for the purpose of making the arrangements for the filing of the suit.

Leave will have to be granted by the supreme court for the filing of the petition, which will be brought in the name of a taxpayer. If the attorney general will support the motion in order that an agreed upon statement of facts can be submitted, it is believed that the justices of the court will grant permission.

Should the first contention be upheld, none of the proposals believed now to be adopted would fail because of the lack of a majority.

These amendments are those relating to the taking of depositions outside of the state by the prosecution in criminal cases; limiting the veto power of the governor; imposing the mechanics' and material lien upon property; abolishing justices of the peace as constitutional officers; abolishing the elective feature of the office of state school commissioner; fixing the method of amending the constitution; providing for judicial reform; creating franchise, inheritance and income taxes and restoring public securities to the tax duplicate; providing for the schedule of the amendments adopted, and last, but not least, permitting the licensing of the liquor traffic.

If the second contention, that the general assembly had no power to delegate to the constitutional convention the right to fix the time of the election, is upheld by the courts, everything would be swept away and there would be no changes from the present charter.

The argument is made that it requires a majority of all the votes cast at an election upon constitutional amendments to adopt any proposition submitted.

The apparent maximum vote cast last week, as shown by the canvass, was upon women's suffrage, the total being 588,298.

Fixing this as the maximum, for the sake of argument, it would require 293,148 votes to adopt a proposition.

SIDNA ALLEN CAPTURED BY DETECTIVES

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 14.—Detectives from Roanoke, Va., this afternoon captured Sidna Allen, leader of the Hillsville, Virginia, Allen gang, and Wesley Edwards, a member in this city. The arrests were made by W. G. Baldwin and G. O. Monday, detectives from Roanoke, who trailed the pair through letters written by Edwards to Maud Irler, a Virginia girl, who was said to have come here today to marry the young man. The detectives arrived on the same train with the girl and at once located Allen by following her to the home of John Cameron, at Eleventh and Locust street, where he was rooming.

Sidna Allen was at home when taken into custody after which the officers assisted by detectives from the local department went in search of Edwards, employed by a paving contractor in the western part of the city. During his residence here Edwards has gone under the name of Tom Sayres.

Roanoke, Va., Sept. 14.—At headquarters of the detective agency hunting the Aliens late today no word had been received from its men in Des Moines, reporting the capture of Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards.

SEARCH FOR $7000 OF MRS. SZABO'S FUNDS CONTINUED BY AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN CONSUL

Detectives Also Looking for Another Attorney Who Was Advisor of Dead Woman.

New York, Sept. 14.—Representatives of the Austro-Hungarian consulate continued their investigations today to learn what disposition was made of $7,000 of funds of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, for whose alleged murder at Greenwood Lake, Burton W. Gibson is now incarcerated in Goshen, N. Y.

Gibson as executor of Mrs. Szabo's estate opened an account in a local bank in August under the name of Estate of Ruzana Menschik Szabo and deposited $7,397. Subsequently Gibson, as executor, withdrew all but $297. The investigators are trying to find out what he did with the money.

There are reports that Mrs. Szabo had an attorney other than Gibson, and detectives are hunting for him.

DEMOCRATIC CENTRAL COMMITTEE HELD GOOD MEETING SATURDAY

County Central Committeemen attending the meeting of this organization held Saturday afternoon in the convention room of the court house, report a growing sentiment favorable to the candidacy of Woodrow Wilson in the various parts of the county.

Short talks made before the committee indicate that many Republicans have declared their intention to vote for Wilson while others, loyal to the party with which they have affiliated for years admit that they will vote for neither Taft nor Roosevelt.

This meeting was called principally to get poll books for the county in the hands of the committeemen.

For the resignation of T. H. Watson as committeeman in the north precinct, Uter, no one was elected to fill the vacancy. Upon motion of R. W. Howard, George Rupp was elected committeeman to fill the vacancy in Bowling Green township.

Chairman Hill announced that Congressman Cox, candidate for governor would speak at Johnstown during the street fair at that place. The Central committee endorsed the action of the Licking Democratic club in voting to attend the opening of the campaign in Columbus next week.

The club has extended an invitation to the Woodrow Wilson club to make the trip and every Democrat in the county is urged to take advantage of the opportunity to attend the opening of the campaign. Further announcement of the plans will be made.

MILITIA FIRED UPON IN STRIKE DISTRICT

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 14.—Military outposts were fired on during the early hours today at Holley in the heart of the territory under martial law because of the miners' strike. The pickets replied and for a time the exchange of shots was brisk but a careful search of the hillsides from which the shots came showed no evidence of any person being injured.

When the shooting was reported to the military headquarters, Companies A and E, First West Virginia National Guard of Parkersburg, and Company I of Fairmont were ordered to the place. They are in command of Captain White of Parkersburg. This is pay day in the unionized section of the north bank of the Kanawha river where the men struck last week but returned to work Tuesday. It was signaled at Hugeston by a fight which began at 9 o'clock, the shooting being general.

It is reported here that contending factions of the miners were engaged but the result is not yet known. Military authorities are of the opinion that the territory under martial law will be extended to include the country north of the Kanawha river, as lawlessness in some parts of that section is said to be increasing so that the civil authorities are unable to cope with the situation. It was stated this morning that Governor Glasscock had ordered an investigation with that end in view and the proclamation is expected before Sunday night, time being needed to send the troops into the disturbed town.

DRAMATIC DEATH OF JAP HERO

Answering an Ancient Tradition Count Nogi and Wife Suicide

BOTH STAB THEMSELVES

The Dead General Was Considered the Greatest Commander of a Generation.

Tokio, Sept. 14.—General Count Maresuke Nogi, supreme military councillor of the empire, and his wife, the Countess Nogi, committed suicide last night, in accordance with the ancient Japanese custom, as a final tribute to their departed emperor and friend, Mutsuhito.

The death by their own hands of the famous general and his wife was as dramatic as it was sad. The general cut his throat with a short sword and the countess committed harakari. Following the Samurai custom, the couple had carefully prepared their plans for killing themselves and timed them so that they would be coincident with the departure forever from Tokio of the dead emperor.

General Nogi and the countess had attended the funeral services of Mutsuhito at the palace here, and it was expected that they would proceed to Aoyama with the cortege. Instead, however, at the conclusion of the ceremony at the palace, they withdrew to their modest home in Akasaka, a suburb of Tokio, and there began their final preparations for death.

First the general wrote a letter to his new emperor, Yoshihito, which was found beside his body. Then he draped in mourning a portrait on the wall of the late emperor, and afterward he and his wife dressed themselves in full Japanese costume and drank a farewell cup of sake from cups which had been presented to the general by Mutsuhito.

Darkness had fallen, and General Nogi and the countess sat and awaited the signal they had agreed upon to announce their leave-taking. This was the booming of a signal gun in the palace grounds at Tokio, which was to let the people know that the body of the emperor was starting on the funeral train for its last resting place.

As the boom of the gun resounded through the clear, still night, General Nogi arose and, grasping in his hand a short sword, plunged it into his throat while the countess stabbed herself through the body. A student who resided at the Nogi home heard the fall of the bodies and rushed into the room. Lying upon the floor were the hero of Port Arthur and his wife. Both still were breathing, but their spasmodic gasps showed plainly that death was near. The student hurried for aid, but when he returned with it both the general and the countess were dead.

The tragedy created a profound sensation and expressions of sorrow were heard on every hand. Especially grief-stricken was Prince Arthur of Connaught, the special envoy to the funeral of Mutsuhito of Great Britain. Prince Arthur was to have gone with General Nogi to the former capital of the Shogunate, Kamakura.

Those who knew General Nogi well declare that his calmness in killing himself was the kind of stoicism he always had displayed, no matter what crisis faced him. They instanced the famous charge of the Japanese up 293-Meter Hill during the Russo-Japanese war when, as commander of the Japanese third army, Nogi saw the Russians mow down his forces in hundreds, among them two of his own sons, and yet quietly and fearlessly continued the battle, taking the hill and eventually being handed the surrender of Lieutenant-General Stoessel at Port Arthur.

Nogi National Hero in Japanese Empire

General Count Nogi was a national hero in Japan. It was he who captured Port Arthur from the Russians in 1904 and assured the success of his country in the battle of Mukden. (Continued on Page 7, Col. 4.)

NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

School opened on Tuesday, Sept. 3. The enrollment, not including 15, who came for a few days and then dropped out, is 635, the largest in the history of the school.

The School Board has purchased six sewing machines for use in the Domestic Arts department. One hundred and seventy-five girls are at present in this department, thus showing the popularity of the work. Because of the great number of pupils in the Commercial department, four new typewriters have been added.

Miller Tafel has been elected by the faculty to be school secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

The Thalian Literary Society held a business meeting this week in order to adjust the work for the year. The following officers have been chosen:

Among the alumni who have visited the school the past week were: Nellie Ballau, Grace Grove, Oulney Cheadid, Roy Priest, Paul Keller, James Barnes, Paul Davis, Frederic Chase and John Ward.

Football is in full swing. Mr. Keckler has been elected coach and is getting the team into shape. Edwin Warner, student manager, is hard at work on the schedule and a good team is assured.

It is to be hoped some good friend will donate a flag for the five flag-staffs erected by the class of 1911.

Four literary societies are to be organized, taking in the entire school. This will be a great thing position, which he cared for without wobbling.

Since the sale of Boehler and Hanley was announced many of the Newark fans have wondered how these two men were selected from the Newark staff of pitchers, while Christy Kearns was overlooked.

Kearns was pronounced by many of the regular attendants at the ball games as the best pitcher in the lot. He was certainly the most consistent worker, as well as the most conscientious.

He evidently had the stuff, for he succeeded many times when the others failed. He had speed, control, good curves and splendid judgment.

If he is overlooked in the draft which opens Monday at Cincinnati, Newark fans will be disappointed. It has been intimated to the Newark club officials that Kearns and Williams will be drafted.

THE CITY BEAUTIFUL

Did you ever stop to think that having a beautiful city is mostly a matter of having a city of beautiful homes. It's up to you and your neighbors.

And beautiful homes don't need to be mansions. Any old home can be made beautiful if its occupants have the home beauty spirit, are willing to work for home beauty.

Home beauty should begin and lasting surface of exceeding brilliancy and beauty. It is made in a score or more of colors to match any scheme of decoration. It's just the thing to banish the glooms and give a cheery, wholesome tone to the household.

Appeals alike to amateur and practical painter.

AMUSEMENTS

Clean Plays.

Story plays those which have been adapted from some popular novel, have been among the most interesting productions the stage has had. Among the most successful producers

A. G. DELAMATER

of book plays in America today is the Limberlost swamp country of Indiana. A. G. Delamater whose "Quo Vadis" and "Beverly of Graustark" are well remembered by hundreds of thousands of theatre-goers. Both were most interesting plays, and clean ones. Delamater will have nothing to do with any other kind of production. Above all, the play must be clean and respectable, so theatre-goers within the confines of the United States and Canada will be pleased to know that he has arranged to produce Gene Stratton-Porter's delightful nature play, "Freckles," which will be seen at the Auditorium Thursday, Sept. 26, when it is considered that "Freckles" was a leader of all the best sellers (there have been over a million readers of the first story of this remarkable woman who has lived all her life in petitors, among them the most prominent in America.

Sousa and His Band.

The first musical impulse with the majority of human beings is to hum or whistle a tune which he or she can keep step to. The melody may be something popular, or an air never heard before, but it will involuntarily fit the rhythms of regular motion. This natural instinct is what makes a stirring march, played by any band, will bring a stimulating thrill to the most unemotional. And when the band is Sousa's conducted by John Philip Sousa, and the march is a famous one of his own, such as will be heard here at the Sousa concert at the Auditorium Monday afternoon, Sept. 23, the exhilaration produced is indescribable. The seat sale opens Friday at 9 a. m.

George (Honey Boy) Evans Minstrels

Lovers of minstrelsy are looking forward with eager anticipation to the appearance of that inimitable little blackface entertainer, George "Honey Boy" Evans and his troupe of minstrel celebrities at the Auditorium Thursday, Sept. 19. The "Honey Boy" promises that his show this year is new in its entirety, is staged and costumed handsomely and presents a monopoly of leaders of the burnt cork realm. "The Floral Bower" the opening part, is described as a scene of entrancing beauty, with its delicate colorings and shifting hues blending harmoniously with the group of blackface favorites seated in the usual semi-circle on a terraced dias. This setting and all others in the show are from the brush of Unité & Wickes, scenic artists for Daniel Frohman's New York Lyceum theatre.

Blanche Walsh in Pictures.

Perhaps the greatest feature ever presented to Newark motion picture lovers will be the Blanche Walsh "Resurrection" pictures, at Auditorium Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 16-17. Miss Walsh is one of America's greatest emotional actresses, and in this production four reels she has the support of an all-star cast of players. The story is one familiar to a great many theatre-goers, and tells the story of the life of a peasant girl in Russia.

Ghost With Walk.

Dr. Eddy, the renowned medium, will conduct a series of interesting spiritualistic demonstrations at the Auditorium Sunday night, September 15, and the theatre promises to contain an audience that will find many things of interest in the seance given by this famous demonstrator of spiritualistic phenomena. Dr. Eddy is known all over this country as one of the most interesting mediums that has ever appeared before an audience, and his manifestations are said to be the most bewildering in their conception. Unlike other mediums Dr. Eddy conducts all his experiments upon a brilliantly lighted stage, and a committee from the audience is on the stage during all of his tests. It is said that no man has occasioned more comment in his particular line of work. Some say that he is the only legitimate successor to Mme. Blavatsky. Some of the phenomena which Dr. Eddy will present Sunday night will include slate writing. Materializations of combs and faces, questions written and retained by the interrogators will receive full and intelligent answers.

THE OHIO REFORM.

Nationally the Democratic party has approved the example set by the Democracy of Ohio, and has declared for the competitive bidding plan for deposit of public money. This is one of the big reforms instituted during the Democratic state administration, and it has met with universal approval in Ohio.

Figures recently obtained by State Treasurer Creamer show the reform could be adopted by the federal government with good results. For instance in eleven Ohio National banks on December 7, 1907, there was on deposit $2,357,604.67 of Uncle Sam's money, that was not drawing a cent of interest. On June 30, 1911, in these same banks there was a total of $1,193,192.27 of federal money on deposit drawing only 1 per cent interest.

In Ohio, deposits of state money draw an average rate of 3.62 per cent interest. By the adoption of the Ohio plan, Uncle Sam's revenue would be increased many millions of dollars annually.

In this state competitive bidding for deposits has earned $500,000 of interest for the people in four years. This is more than all the other interest earnings that were put into the state treasury since the formation of the commonwealth. For every day that the plan has been in operation, the people of the state have gained over $400 in interest on state funds, interest that formerly did not go to the state treasury. The man who helped State Treasurer Creamer institute this big reform is a candidate on the Democratic ticket to succeed his chief. He is John P. Brennan.

Haines, of Maine, has secured his election and now he regards Taft and Roosevelt with benevolent neutrality.

A Philadelphia surgeon has patched up a defective backbone. Now a great practice awaits him in high political circles.

If George W. Perkins is for Roosevelt, what trust can be against the big Bull Moose? Perkins is a director in practically all the trusts, and when he stands behind Roosevelt and becomes responsible for the financing of his campaign, it is in his substantial capacity of political leader of big business. Perkins, the sponsor of Roosevelt and partner of Morgan is chairman of the financial committee and director of the International Harvester Trust, director of the Steel Trust and of Standard Oil's own bank, the National City; chairman of the Board of the Pere Marquette railroad and director in eleven other giant corporations—Northern Securities, Northern Pacific Railroad, Marquette and Bessemer Dock and Navigation company, C. H. & D. railroad company, Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Railroad company, Erie railroad, Bankers' Trust company, Astor Trust company, German-American Insurance company, German Alliance Insurance company, and trustee of the New York Trust company.

PROTECTION ONLY FOR THE MILLIONAIRES

The average ad valorem duty in 1909 on dutiable imports of iron and steel and manufactures thereof, amounting to only $21,182,000, was 35.59 per cent. This duty was nearly three times as large as the proportion of the labor cost of the total value of the products of iron and steel and manufactures thereof. Under the plea of "protecting" labor, iron and steel and manufactures thereof (exclusive of machinery, tools and agricultural implements), made in this country to the value of $1,464,014,000 were "protected" by a duty of 35.59 per cent, while the wages paid were only about $204,000,000 or approximately one-seventh of the total value of the product. If the protection were equally distributed, THIS WOULD MEAN $6.00 OF PROTECTION FOR MANUFACTURERS, AND $1.00 OF PROTECTION FOR THE WORKERS.

IT WOULD COST THE CONSUMERS OF THE COUNTRY LESS THAN ONE-HALF AS MUCH AS "PROTECTION" NOW COSTS THEM TO PAY A LIVING WAGE DIRECTLY TO ALL WORKERS IN THE COUNTRY WHO ARE IN THE SLIGHTEST DEGREE POSSIBLY BENEFITTED BY PROTECTIVE DUTIES.

It is to be doubted whether Ojinaga fully appreciates the rare distinction attained in its capture by the Mexican insurgents.

Some few years ago Kansas farmers used corn as fuel. Nowadays the general complaint is that fodder is too dear to be used for cattle, and corn too dear to fatten hogs with. There seems to be work for a commission or board in this dilemma. The problem is to find a price level at which corn is not cheap enough to burn and not too dear to be profitably converted into bacon and hams. The sufficiency of our meat supply apparently depends on the solution.

BUSINESS AND THE CAMPAIGN

Perhaps the most amazing thing in this amazing presidential year, says Current Literature, is the apparent indifference which business manifests toward politics—the manner in which it pools at it as if it were nothing more than trifling incident of a passing day, instead of a mighty effort on the part of the big parties to save the country from impending destruction.

The party which already has control of one house of congress and which will undoubtedly within seven months be in control at the White House, declares for a tariff for revenue only and industry hardly stops to listen.

Congress investigates the "money trust," attacks the woolen tariff, the steel tariff, the cotton tariff, with an ax, slaps at excise tax of sixty millions more or less on business incomes of over $5,000, and Wall street merely yawns.

Radical measures bordering on socialism makes such headway that the President warns us the federal constitution is in peril; the bond issues of states and cities increase a billion and a half in five years; the biggest corporation on earth is threatened with dissolution, and hardly a ripple is seen on the stock market!

And this in the same country that only five years ago had financial convulsions so fierce that clearing house certificates took the place of currency and the biggest banks in the country made a noise like a bankrupt! For weeks it was almost impossible to get the cash on bank checks, and this was under the rule of Teddy.

What does it all mean? Has business lost its fear of what the politicians can do or grown stolid and callous to their threats?

Here is room for discussion, but surface indications all seem to point to the fact that politics—not even of the presidential-year brand—no longer has any terror for business; that business at last realizes that it is bigger than politicians, or political campaigns.

The New York dispatches make it evident that attorneys cannot be too careful as to what their women clients die of.

"Stripes are to be worn another season," says an authority on fashion. But not by Ice King Morse, of New York.

The Wants will sell your house.

And now Attorney General Wickersham can't figure it out any other way than that Wilson will get the electoral vote of Maine. But it is a little singular that members of the Taft cabinet should make such an admission.

Czar Nicholas fears that he will meet with a violent death. Why doesn't he get an aeroplane and end the suspense?

WOODROW WILSON ON THE TARIFF

Governor Wilson's position on the tariff is so clear and well defined that it merits the closest study of every earnest citizen. For example, he said in his speech of acceptance:

"The revision should begin with the schedules which have been most obviously used to kill competitors and to raise prices in the United States, arbitrarily and without regard to the prices prevailing elsewhere in the markets of the world; and it should be extended to every item in every schedule which affords any opportunity for monopoly, for special advantage to limited groups of beneficiaries, or for subsidized control of any kind in the markets or the enterprises of the country; until special favors of every sort shall have been absolutely withdrawn and every part of our laws of taxation shall have been transformed from a system of governmental patronage into a system of just and reasonable charges which shall fall where they will create the least burden. When we shall have done that, we can fix questions of revenue and of business adjustment in a new spirit and with clear minds. We shall then be partners with all the business men of the country, and a day of freer, more stable prosperity shall have dawned."

Nothing can be clearer than that Governor Wilson has given the subject of tariff revision close and intelligent study. He has avoided the reactionary attitude of the Taft Republicans, and has put to shame the disingenuous quibbling of the third-term candidate in the discussion of this important issue of the campaign. He has left nothing to inference but has clearly and honestly stated his position. The American people who have so long been the victims of Republican repudiations of platform pledges regarding the revisions of the tariff, will find Governor Wilson's frank and clean cut statement refreshing and inspiring. His speech of acceptance holds out the prospect for the first time in many years that the tariff will be actually revised downward and revised with reference to the good of all the people rather than for the special interests which heretofore have been able to prevent the Republican Party complying with its solemn platform pledges.

FATHER TIME.

(By Mary E. Fuller.)
Don't laugh at Father Time, my boy, just turn your head away. For when he comes to you, my son, he will surely come to stay. He will come with his scythe and old grey head, He will come with many a wrong word that's said, And put them at your door. He will come with knowledge and regret, And give you plenty, you may bet, Until you say you want no more.

He will write your epitaph in the sands of time, Whether it be prose, blank verse or little rhyme; He will put it there just the same, And with all the beauty and all the greed, With all the progress and dire need, "Father Time will win your game."

Sept. 14 In American History.

Are You Blue and Worried?

Nervous? Some of the time really ill? Catch cold easily and frequently suffer from biliousness or headache? The reason is that your system does not rid itself of the poisons in the blood; just as impossible as it is for the grate of a stove to rid itself of cinders. The waste does to us exactly what the cinders do to the stove; make the fire burn low until enough cinders have accumulated and then prevent its burning at all. Your liver is sluggish—you are old and heavy—sleep does not rest, nor is food appetizing. In this condition illness develops. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery eradicates the poisons from the body—a glyceric alternative extract made from bloodroot, golden seal and mandarin root, stone and queen's root, without the use of alcohol. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in cases like this the laboratory of the stomach is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood.

Mrs. Bess Blake, of Port Hope, Ont., Box 96, writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from indigestion, catarrh, biliousness, female troubles, bloating, constipation and nervousness—at times I would lie in bed, then able to be up again. With much many different doctors, and would be better for a while, then I would go down with chronic inflammation all through me. For nineteen years I had this poison in my blood. After trying nearly everything I lost hope. I read in The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken the Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pierce's Kidney' and have used five bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now able to do my work and walk with pleasure. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything around me and I thank God for having me live long enough to find some thing that made me well again."

The Colonial Sewing circle was entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Irwin in Buena Vista street on Friday. The afternoon was spent in needle work and a dainty two course dinner was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Ginger in Spencer street on Friday afternoon, September 20.

On September 12, Mr. and Mrs. John Klaus of Norton avenue, celebrated their wooden anniversary. They received many beautiful presents. The evening was spent in playing cards. The first prizes were won by Miss Emma Williams and Mr. Daniel Wies; the second by Miss Carrie Klaus and Mr. Harry McConnell. At a late hour a dainty luncheon was served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Klaus, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wies, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McConnell, Mrs. W. H. Young, Mrs. J. W. A delightful picnic and reunion was held Wednesday on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Wilson of North Gay street. The day was pleasantly spent in conversation and a number of contests were held and prizes awarded; Mr. J. W. L. Mothers-paw being a very successful winner of the booby and as a result, will probably go extensively into the poultry business.

Mr. and Mrs. Nez Davis of Pine street entertained with a dancing party at Mountbuilders' Park on Friday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wilson, who leave Tuesday morning for their return trip to the Isle of Pines. A delightful dance program was furnished and was enjoyed by a number of dancers.

One of the pretty affairs of the season in children's society was the lawn party given on Friday afternoon from four to six by little Miss Esther Lois Brown, honoring her ninth birthday anniversary, at her home on Columbia street. The children pleasantly spent the time with various games and music and at five-thirty all marched to the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. The color scheme was pink and white, carried out in the candles, decorations and refreshments, and the house and veranda were a veritable flower garden.

The little guests were: Irene Hughes, Emily Spencer, Irene Drumm, Ethelyn Baughman, Laveria Hoskins, Kathryn Hoodlett, Dorothy May Colman, Helen Riggs, Ruth Broughton, Marian Spencer, Edna May Kennedy, Effie May Lucas, Virginia Browne, Margaret Boss, Lucille Huls-hizer, Virginia Swartz, Dorothy Broome, Mildred Montgomery, and the hostess, Mrs. Brown was assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Misses Joanna and Lucille Brown.

The children all returned to their homes, wishing the hostess many more happy birthday anniversaries.

Miss Catherine Kinney honored her guest, Miss Jones of Chicago, when she entertained on Thursday evening at her home in German street. The hours were informally spent and a dainty luncheon was served a number of guests.

A NEW PRINCIPLE IN COMPLEXION TREATMENT

(From Society World.)

Most creams are injurious when used habitually. They clog the pores and eventually form a permanent, soggy, stifling film which interferes with eliminative action and makes the skin sickly and pasty. There is an application—mercolized wax—which acts upon an entirely different principle. While perfectly harmless, it contains active ingredients which remove by absorption the dead and half dead particles of scarf skin, as well as unhealthy matter in the pores. Thus it takes away from instead of adding to the complexion, differing in this respect from cosmetics. The result is a perfectly natural and healthy young complexion. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (one ounce is sufficient) is applied at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

The correct principle in the treatment of wrinkles is to tighten the skin, which naturally irons out the lines. A face bath, remarkably effective in this direction, may be made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxonite in 1-2 pint witch hazel.

TRADITIONS

OF ROMANCE ARE SHATTERED IN LOS ANGELES PRE-NUP-TIAL CONTRACT

Young Man and Woman Agree Upon Unique Privileges and Restrictions.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 14.—Conventions and traditions of romance ruthlessly shattered in a marriage contract signed by Miss Heloise Chandler, 21, daughter of Julia Davis Chandler, author, of Philadelphia, and Carlton W. Washburne, 24, son of Marion Foster Washburne author and lecturer of Pasadena. The young couple met a week ago, their marriage license was issued, the pre-nuptial agreement signed, and on tomorrow they will be joined in legal marriage which stipulates that the marriage is for the happiness of their children and for the free intercommunication of the parents with the rest of society. The marriage contract clearly sets forth that the marriage shall not be a bond, giving either party control of or possession over the other and that this shall not prove a bar to another marriage should this prove unfruitful. That the tie shall terminate with the death of love on either side and that neither shall have the right to restrain either him or her from incurring other parental responsibility. It provides that as at present the state provides no income for mothers or children, it is the duty of the man to share equally with his wife all his earnings and property at such times as she may be incapacitated for work, and that the expense of the house and children shall be equally divided. In case of separation, it agrees that the responsibility shall be divided no matter who is to blame. Washburne and his fiancée are both college graduates, he of Chicago University and Stanford and she of two Philadelphia institutions.

GOVERNMENT

WILL ESTABLISH A GENERAL SUPPLY POST AT EL PASO, TEXAS.

Conditions in Mexico as Reported to War Department, Necessitated This Step.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Major-General Wood, chief of staff of the army today ordered a general supply post established at El Paso, Texas. Conditions in Mexico are reported to the war department as chaotic and starvation during the coming winter threatens to add to the suffering. The rural population has been unable to plant or cultivate crops. General Wood's action is taken to indicate that officers here believe the revolution will be protracted.

CLEVELAND

BEING USED AS A RECRUITING STATION FOR WHITE SLAVE TRADERS

Probation Officer Has Evidence That Rendezvous is in Swell Residence District.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 14.—Conclusive evidence that Cleveland is being used as a recruiting station for white slave has been found by Probation Officer Christian in an investigation, result of which was made known today. Chief of Police Kohler immediately ordered the entire police force to double their efforts to stamp out the evil.

Christian reports that there is an organized effort between handsome young men, waiters in restaurants and grills, and dance halls and moving picture show attaches to procure young girls frequenting these places.

He has advised the police to watch a house in the swell residence district, which he declares is being used as a rendezvous.

The police attribute the disappearance of twenty-three girls during the last two months to white slave raiding. It is believed they have been taken to other cities.

RETURN MONEY LOST THROUGH MRS. CHADWICK

Eliza, Sept. 14.—Part of the money out of which the people of Oberlin, this county, were fleeced by the late Cassie Chadwick came back to them today. The United States Fidelity and Bonding Company of New York, paid into court here $22,875, which represents the $15,000 bond with interest of the late Cashier A. B. Spear, of the National Bank of Oberlin, which was wrecked by its dealing with Mrs. Chadwick. The payment follows long litigation.

The money will be divided among stockholders of the bank who were assessed $100,000 to pay the depositors' losses.

LABOR LEADERS SCORE TAFT.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The American Federation of Labor, through its executive committee, has made public its attitude in the campaign this year. The Federation severely condemns the Republican party's alleged hostility toward organized labor, but maintains an attitude of strict neutrality as between Wilson and Roosevelt, both of whom are praised as being "outsoken" in favor of the reforms which labor is seeking.

The worst about giving advice is that you so often have to take it back if it's damaged.

A SICK MAN

Writes Dr. Hartman About Kidney Disease

A gentleman writes: "I was greatly interested in your article describing the Kaufman case of serious disease of the kidneys. The description of his case exactly outlines my condition. I am sure if Peruna cured him I would cure me also. I am losing flesh rapidly and the doctors say I have every symptom of Bright's disease of the kidneys. If you think I would be benefited by Peruna I will certainly try some as the doctors have practically given me up, the same as they did him."

In reply I wish to say, first, that I never make any promises as to what Peruna will cure. No physician can make positive statements of that sort. I can say this much, however, if I were in your place I should certainly give Peruna a trial. I know of no other remedy that would be so likely to be of use to you in your present condition as Peruna. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Continue this for two or three weeks and then if there is anything you wish to ask me further write me and I will give your letter prompt attention.

If I find that the Peruna is not helping you I will be perfectly frank and tell you so, for I would not have you take Peruna unless it was really helping you. But it has rescued so many cases of kidney disease that I am quite confident you will find it exactly suited to your case.

Kidney disease begins with catarrh of the kidneys. Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Unless the destruction of the kidneys is already too great Peruna relieves the catarrh and the cause of the kidney disease is removed.

I shall anxiously await a report of your case. Remember, all letters are sacredly confidential. I never use any one's name or address without his written consent. My correspondence is absolutely private.

Peruna is for sale at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Many persons are making inquiries for the old-time Peruna. To such would say, this formula is now put out under the name of KA-TAR-NO, manufactured by KA-TAR-NO Company, Columbus, Ohio. Write them and they will be pleased to send you a free booklet.

SEVERE STORM ON GULF COAST ABATED TODAY

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 14.—The equinoctial storm that struck the gulf coast last night and threatened to do serious damage to this city had abated this morning. While conditions are unsettled it is believed the disturbance has spent itself as far as Mobile is concerned.

The small river steamer National was sunk early this morning and the government dredge Barnard which assisted in raising the Maine in Havana harbor, dragged her anchor for a quarter of a mile but was not damaged.

The Cedar Street Methodist church was blown down and a great deal of minor damage done. Water did not come over the wharves except at a few low places. The damage in this city will not exceed $10,000.

So many streets of Berlin are paved with asphalt and wooden blocks that it has been found necessary to let the horses with "rope" shoes to prevent slipping.

LYON COMMITTEE THANKS BUILDERS OF TABERNACLE

The members of the executive committee of the Lyon tabernacle meetings, in session at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, were jubilant over the splendid tabernacle that Newark builders have turned over to them. Unstinted praise was heard for the great building, its splendid appearance, its substantial structure, its great capacity. It is the best tabernacle for the purpose ever seen by the committee, and they take peculiar pride in the fact that it was planned and built by the men of Newark alone. It is in itself a wonderful embodiment of the good will of the hundred or more men who worked upon it. They built together as though they had been building tabernacles all their lives. They worked at double speed and vied with each other in doing the most and getting the hardest work. And it was erected in 31 1-2 hours, a record that will not soon be beaten.

So the committee wishes to thank and congratulate all who helped; the women of the various churches who prepared splendid dinners for the men; the men who carried the lumber and supplied the carpenters; the water-carriers who were hailed with joy every time they came down the line; the lumbermen who advanced the materials and put them on the ground; the men over the city who could not come but sent some one else to work in their place; the carpenters who fitted it all together; the foremen and building committee who were on the ground all the time and everywhere and doing everything with everybody else to make it go. And the result, the building went up in an orderly uproar of hammers, with shouts and songs, and everybody is happy.

Next Friday evening the building will be dedicated. The great choir will be in its place with Mr. Mitchell to lead. Everybody is invited, but a special invitation is given to every man who helped to build the building. It will be an evening of rejoicing for all.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in different parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there with your friends and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall.

BELMONT MAN TAKES PLACE OF JOHN L. SULLIVAN

Tom L. Taggart of Bridgeport, Belmont county, today was named as the Republican nominee for secretary of state to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the resignation of John L. Sullivan of Steubenville, who accepted the nomination on the Progressive ticket. Lewis was chosen at a meeting of the state central committee today. The committee will also select nominees for the presidential electors from eight districts.

WALDO

ON THE STAND FLASHES ANGER WHEN ASKED IF HE WANTED IMMUNITY.

Declared He Considered Questions Along That Line a "Gratuitous Insult."

New York, Sept. 14.—The sum of $15,000 was the price asked of a police captain by "politicians and others" for promotion to the office of inspector, according to the testimony given by Police Commissioner Waldo Friday as a witness before the aldermanic committee which is investigating alleged corruption in the police department. Mr. Waldo swore that he had an affidavit from one captain that he was approached and asked to give such a sum as a condition precedent to his promotion.

The commissioner was asked who the captain was or as to the identity of "the politicians and others," but last night Emory R. Buckner, counsel for the committee, sent to Mr. Waldo requesting him to produce the affidavit, "as well as all other information you may have on that subject."

"Do you," asked Mr. Buckner, "waive immunity, Mr. Waldo, in case your testimony—"

"He did not finish."

"I don't want any immunity and I don't waive it," snapped the commissioner. "Furthermore, I do not understand that this committee has any right to grant anybody immunity. I consider the mention of such a matter a gratuitous insult."

"Do you want immunity?" insisted Mr. Buckner.

"I consider this an insult," repeated the witness.

"Then I understand that you would refuse immunity?" broke in the examiner.

Mr. Waldo's voice was shaking with anger. He leaned forward and again declared that he considered discussion of such a matter unnecessary and trivial.

"Well, then," said Mr. Buckner pleasantly, "we'll drop it."

"Can you think of any one thing?" asked Mr. Buckner, "more vital to the police force than the character of its men?"

"I cannot," said the commissioner. "Do you select your men from the civil service lists in the order certified?"

"We do."

Mr. Buckner here read a list of about 30 men, appointed during Waldo's administration, after having been rejected in a previous administration for various crimes and other unfitness.

"I am not responsible for the men certified on civil service lists," retorted the witness. "Let the civil service speak for itself."

"The demoralization of the entire department is then due to the civil service," said Mr. Buckner.

"If that allegation," flared up Mr. Waldo.

PHYSICIAN TO LATE KING.

"Mary, did you know that Dr. Faure Miller, the Paris Physician to the King and Queen of England, gave to Kate Seaton Mason, the famous English Hair Specialist, a very strong testimonial, regarding her effectual treatment of the hair? So, also, did other prominent London and New York Physicians, and I am convinced there is nothing like Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream to keep the hair and scalp in health."

"It stands to reason that Mrs. Mason's old English hair preparations must be the best in the world, or else Dr. Faure Miller, the Duchess of Marlborough, Mme. Melba, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, and the leading society women and physicians of New York, London and Paris, would not have given her such letters of recommendation."

"I have quite a few friends who have been sending to New York for these preparations, but Frank D. Hall right in our own city, has now taken the agency for both the shampoo cream and hair tonic."

PARCELS POST IS EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1ST

Big Change in the Method of Handling the Mails Will be Noticeable in Newark Office

Local rural route carriers are not at all pleased with the news that the new parcels post law will go into effect January 1st next. The change in the handling of the mail matter in the vicinity of Newark is going to take some time and Postmaster Jolley has not yet received any formal instructions from the postmaster general as to how to proceed in the reorganization of his staff. The increased bulk and weight will undoubtedly demand the employment of additional carriers and there is a possibility that in congested rural sections of the state, such as surround Newark and other cities, it will be necessary to have two or three carriers on every route.

Learning a new route, and even breaking in a new man is no easy task and will demand much time and patience. It is believed, however, that there are sufficient "would-be" employees of Uncle Sam in the vicinity of Newark to fill all the new positions and it would be well for these to watch the newspapers closely for notices regarding prospective civil service examinations for postal positions.

America's Future Development

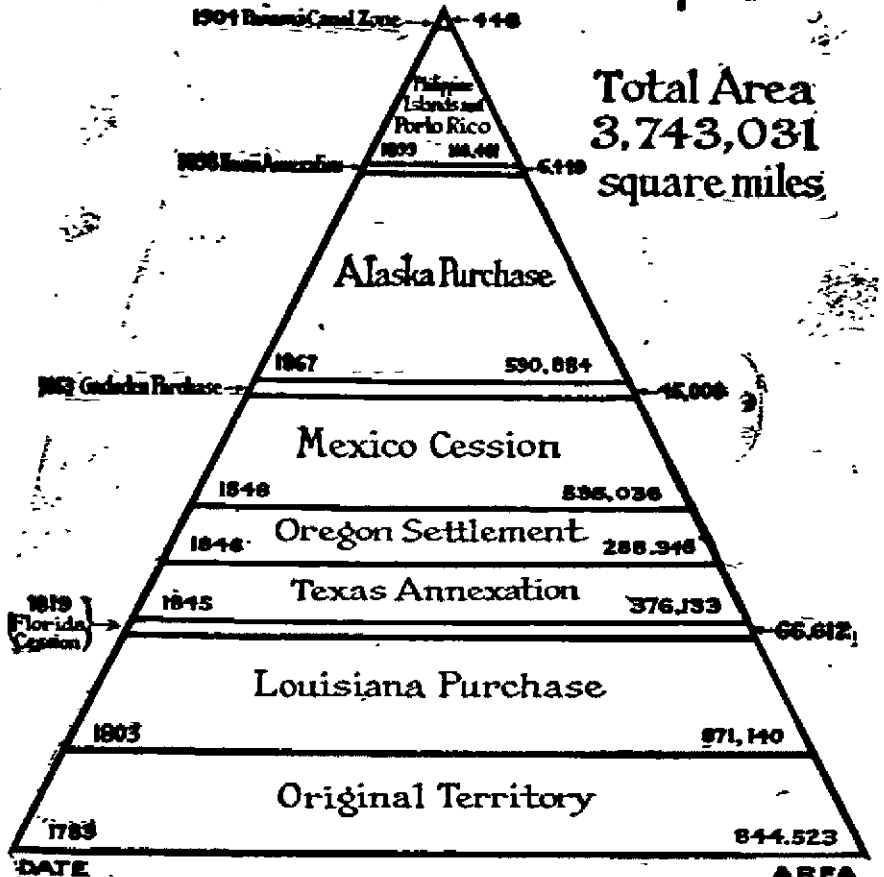

By CHARLES STELZLE

THE United States has today an area nearly four and a half times as great as it was in 1783. In 1803, with the Louisiana purchase, the territory of this country was more than doubled. Steadily we have grown until in 1904 the Panama canal zone of 448 square miles was acquired. This latest acquisition will mean more to the United States than the mere saving of time in transporting freight. It will make our day figure significantly in commanding the Pacific ocean, the future battleground of the world, for in this arena Russia, Japan, China and the United States will determine whether the world is to be dominated by the Anglo-Saxon race or by a nation which is foreign to most of the ideals which have made America great and powerful.

Thomas Carlyle once said: "Ye may boast of yer democracy or any other 'tracy' or any kind of poetical roobish, but the reason why yer laboring folk are so happy is that ye have a vast deal of land for a terra few people." But the day has gone by when the poor man can secure free land. We have reached the limit in this respect. We are facing a situation similar to that in many foreign lands. We have become land impoverished through our foolish generosity. Today by the mere fact of his arrival every immigrant increases the value of the land in the United States by $500. Every newborn babe has the same effect upon land values. Rents for the workmen in our big cities have become exorbitant. The percentage of the renting farmers is increasing. In spite of our remarkable growth in land area there is a famine of land for the poor, and the poor—the people on the margin—determine the status and the standards for the whole people with regard to national prosperity and happiness. The land question is one of the greatest importance and must be reckoned with by our statesmen.

FAVORS

SHOWN BY COSHOCTON LIGHT & HEATING COMPANY CAUSE OF LUSTY COMPLAINT

Tribune Company of That City Charges Discrimination in Favor of Competing Newspaper.

Columbus, Sept. 14.—The Coshocton Light and Heat Company has been haled before the Public Service Commission to defend the charge that it is charging various prices to its customers, not holding to the schedule of prices set forth in the report made to the service commission, and is and has been supplying certain men of influence with electric light and heat free of charge.

The complaint against the lighting company was made by the Tribune Company of that city.

In the complaint it is set forth that the Tribune is paying 10 cents per kilowatt hour for light and power to operate its plant, while its competitor the Age Publishing Company, is getting the same service for five cents per kilowatt hour. Against this condition the Tribune management files a lustrous protest that fills four typewritten pages.

It is also charged that the company is supplying light and heat to the residence of R. C. Snyder, managing editor of the Age Publishing Company, and is making no charge for that service, while demanding and collecting from the Tribune Co. from $30 to $40 per month.

It is also charged that the lighting company has been and is supplying light free to the offices of J. L. McDowell, F. E. Pomeroy, R. F. Timmons, J. R. Stewart, G. W. Cassingham, C. T. Gaser, L. D. Bancroft, and J. D. Severens.

The Tribune Company asks that the Public Service Commission investigate the situation, determine the facts and correct the discrimination so that competition may be even, and those who get light and power get it at the rate fixed by law and the same to all.

Contracts will be let Monday morning by Service Director McCarthy for the first batch of sidewalk contracts which will be put down by the city. Following the letting of the contracts the work will be started promptly and finished up as rapidly as possible during the early fall. Everybody is invited to the campfire and the afternoon session of the reunion, and all soldiers and sailors of all wars are requested to take part in the parade around the square, which will close the exercises of the day. WONDERFUL

SHOOTING OF JOHN R. TAYLOR, OF NEWARK AT CINCINNATI TOURNAMENT

Newark Professional Was High Gun Throughout Last Day's Regular Events

John R. Taylor professional of Newark, Ohio, was the bright particular star yesterday, the closing day of the registered tournament of the Cincinnati Gun Club. Beginning the day with a run of 69 straight to his credit from the first day, he broke the first 77 straight, making a total run of 137, thereby winning a DuPont professional long run medal. His third target in the sixth event escaped, but he broke the remaining 62 straight and then got the 15 in the special event, giving him a second long run of 87. He led the field for the day in the regular events with 149 out of 150 and left on the night boat for Louisville on his way to Evansville, Ind., where he figures on repeating his good work at the Indiana state shoot next week. For the two days he made the high score of 292 out of 300 targets. His nearest competitor was F. C. Koch, of Phillipsburg, Ohio, an amateur, who broke 145, high score in his class.

ROOSEVELT CLAIMS ROSY WESTERN TRIP

Progressive Sentiment Spreading Like Wildfire—Mormon Church Chief Support of Taft.

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 14.—"We're going to beat the bosses two to one at the polls next November," Colonel Roosevelt prophesied yesterday. He said that in the East the Progressive party would "attend to the bosses," and urged the people of the West to do likewise.

While the Progressive movement had originated in the West, he said, it was "spreading like wildfire in the East."

Col. Roosevelt made his prophecy at the close of his long tour through the Northwest, the outcome of which he said, pleased him greatly.

He came yesterday into Utah from Boise, Idaho, speaking at Blackfoot and Pocatello, Idaho.

He stopped in Ogden only long enough to address the delegates to the Progressive state convention and then left for Reno, Nev., on his way to the coast.

"I want to say one word," he began, "about certain men in Utah who are whining that they cannot support me because they have given their pledge to President Taft to support him. I do not object to a man because he opposes me, but I do object to the action of any man who says he is bound by theft."

"Any man who took part in seating the stolen delegates at the Chicago convention was engaged in dishonest practices and is advancing what he knows to be merely an excuse if he says he is bound by the result of that convention. No man who is an honest man is bound to support theft. Up to the time of the convention there was room for an honest difference of opinion, but once the convention was ended, there was no room for such a difference."

It was in his speech at Pocatello that Colonel Roosevelt declared his confidence in the outcome in November.

The colonel made special criticism of the fact that Taft's chief support in Utah was the Mormon church.

NEWARK GOLFERS WERE DEFEATED AT LANCASTER

The Newark Golf Club suffered defeat Friday afternoon at the hands of the Lancaster Golf Club at the Country Club links at Lancaster by the total score of 25 to 12. The strange links proved the stumbling block to the Newark team, but four of the local players winning their matches.

D. R. Manning defeated his opponent, Mr. Wilson 2-0; Frederick Wright defeated Mr. Smith 2-1; W. A. Dorey won from Mr. Baker 2-0 and J. S. Herzog won over Mr. Rising 2-0.

The scores of the two clubs were as follows:

Lancaster	Newark
1—Wilson	0—Manning (Capt.)
2—Peters	2—W. J. Cadz
3—Guthrie	2—T. Montgomery
4—Giesey	2—W. C. Miller
5—Hause (Capt.)	3—Scott (Mng.)
6—Smith	1—F. Wright
7—Baker	0—W. Dorey
8—Outcault	3—C. McGruder
9—Rising	0—J. S. Herzog
10—Davis	1—J. R. Fitzgibbon
11—Whiley	1—H. Bartholomew
12—Zink	2—C. Hollander
13—Miller	2—H. Montgomery
14—Cox	3—C. W. Miller

Totals 25-12

The Newark club made the trip to Lancaster in automobiles, arriving in time for lunch at the Country Club. Following lunch the matches were started. The party returned to Newark Friday night about 9 o'clock.

A return match with the Lancaster golfers will be played here September 27. The Newark club also has a return match with the Coshocton club on the local course before the season closes.

There is some talk among the enthusiasts of forming a league for next season between clubs located at Newark, Lancaster, Coshocton, Zanesville and Cambridge. No details have been suggested but such an organization will probably be formed for next season.

STRIKERS

DEFTY POLICE AND COMPEL THE STREET CAR COMPANY TO CALL IN CARS.

Minnesota Governor Asked for Soldiers. Tells Sheriff to Suppress Riots or Resign.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 14.—Governor Eberhart took cognizance of the street car strike situation and spent several hours investigating to determine whether state troops shall be ordered out as was requested by the sheriff yesterday, today before leaving for St. Paul. The executive counseled delay in calling the militia. The sheriff's deputies today supplanted the police in guarding the company's property.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 14.—An appeal to Governor Eberhart for soldiers to assist in quieting the riotous outbreaks that Friday compelled the street car company to suspend service after car men had been injured by strikers and their friends, was made by business organizations.

Five arrests were made, but the police could do little with the crowd that surged around each car sent in to the downtown streets. Stone-throwers were lost in the mass and there were not enough officers to drive back the attackers.

In the West End, the 5900 men, boys and women stood with missiles. A car would clang into the crowd. The motorman would put on all the power, drop on his knees in the vestibule and try to run through packed humanity, but his trolley pole would be pulled from the wire and the crowd, pouring through the car, would beat the car crew until in some instances they had to be carried, bruised and bleeding, to drug stores.

Business organizations are appealing by wire and telephone, for state troops to quell the trouble. Governor Eberhart is hastening back to St. Paul to look into the Duluth situation. He may order the troops here. The street car company gave up yesterday afternoon and called in its cars. Many wild rumors were afloat during the day, one declaring that several strikebreakers had been killed, but this was untrue.

Sheriff Meinke has requested the governor to order out the militia. He stated he is in need of 500 troops.

Judge Dibble late Friday night issued an order in mandamus proceedings, directing the street car company to show cause why it is not giving the public service. The arguments will be heard Monday.

Sheriff Meinke has been ordered by Governor Eberhart to suppress the rioting or resign.

AMERICAN

WON HIGH HONORS AT THE INTERNATIONAL AVIATION MEET AT CHICAGO.

Glenn Martin Shot Off Engine 1000 Feet Up and Landed Within Nine Feet of Given Spot.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—It took Glenn H. Martin less than 18 seconds to "get off the earth" at the aviation meet Friday. He won the quick starting event under conditions requiring him to be 20 feet away at a given signal and to start his engine, ascend and cross line 500 feet distant. His time was 17.45 seconds.

Max Lillie was second in 20.02 seconds. Maurice Prevost of France, the only aviator flying a monoplane in the event was third in 22.09 seconds, and Howard Gill fourth in 22.43 seconds.

Despite a rain which continued while half a dozen aviators were in the air, some of them 1000 feet high, all of the events were run off.

Martin also won the event for most accurate landing, shutting his engine off 1000 feet up and descending to within nine feet of a given spot. Lillie was second in 26 feet 10 inches; Prevost third, 122 feet 5 inches, and De Lloyd Thompson fourth, in 127 feet 4 inches.

In the 12-mile race biplanes, carrying driver and passenger, Thompson won first prize in 14 minutes and 9.76 seconds; Anthony Jannus second, in 15 minutes 33.35 seconds.

As the only entrant in a monoplane race, Prevost covered the 12 laps of the one-mile course, but his time was under previous records.

Aviator Earl Dancherty and a passenger were 2000 feet in the air when the engine of the biplane went wrong. Dancherty kept control of the machine and made a perfect glide to earth. The man with him was C. Ross, a mechanic. Two rocker arms broke on Dancherty's engine.

DRAMATIC

The count was born at Hagl, in the Province of Choh-hu, in 1849, and was the eldest son of Marotatsu Nogi, a Samurai of the Choshu clan.

During the Saito rebellion, Nogi fought bravely at the battle of Yamaguchi and Tawarasaka and was wounded, and after the rebellion was suppressed he was made a lieutenant-colonel. He commanded the first brigade of infantry in the Chino-Japanese war and captured Port Arthur in one day. On the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war in 1904, General Nogi was appointed commander of the third army. His forces took 263-Meter Hill after terrible slaughter and also destroyed the Russian squadron in the port.

General Nogi personally received General Stoessel's proposal to surrender Port Arthur.

The Countess Nogi was a daughter of Yuchi Sadayuki, a Samurai of Kagoshima clan.

STORY TOLD

OF ENLISTMENT HALF CENTURY AGO OF UNITED STATES ARMY "ORPHAN."

"Johnny" Clem is now the only Officer or Private in Active Service of '61 Veterans.

The Chicago Examiner of recent date prints a story of Col. John L. Clem, now the only man, officer or private in active service in the United States army who had taken part in the civil war. The salient features of the enlistment of "Little Johnny" Clem, are well known to the older residents of Newark, but will be read by them with renewed interest and to those who do not know the circumstances the valiant little soldier's enlistment will come as an interesting recital.

"With the retirement of Major Daniel W. Arnold, quartermaster of the Department of the Lakes with headquarters at St. Paul, Colonel John L. Clem, chief quartermaster of the Central division, with headquarters in Chicago, became the "orphan" of the United States Army.

Colonel Clem, best known as "The Drummer Boy of Chickamauga," now enjoys the distinction of being the only man on the active list of the army who participated in the civil war. All the other civil war veterans on the list, whether officers or privates, have died or retired.

Colonel Clem has three more years of active service before him. Then he, too, like the thousands who have gone before him, must step down. He was the youngest enlisted soldier in the civil war.

"I was no bigger than a pint of peanuts when I enlisted," said Col. Clem yesterday in his office in the federal building. "As a matter of fact, I was only ten years old when I found myself at my first pitched battle."

"I wanted to go to the war and I had to run away from home to do it. I lived in Newark, O. in those days. I presented myself, a mere mite of a boy before Captain McDougal of the Third Ohio Regiment."

"I want to enlist," I said to him. "Go home, my boy," said the captain, kindly looking down on me as I stood, tousled headed, thin and in short trousers.

"I'm going to the war," I said, and he allowed me to go as a substitute drummer boy."

Col. Clem was too modest to tell of the battles in which he took part. He was attached to the Twenty-second Michigan infantry which was engaged in the desperate fight at Shiloh. The tiny drummer boy proudly took his position and sounded the long roll valiantly from his drum.

They called him "Johnny Shiloh" in those days. Later he was known as "The Little Drummer Boy of Chickamauga," for he distinguished himself at that battle. When the retreat was sounded Little Johnny threw down his drum and snatched up a rifle which had been left on the field. He was running after his comrades when a confederate colonel shouted:

"Halt, you little shaver." Johnny leveled his gun, pulled the trigger and saw the confederate officer fall from his horse. Then he fled through the brush. Three bullets passed through his hat that day."

Mrs. Henderson's waist.

Mrs. Henderson isn't going to wear that pretty white waist of hers again, because it came from the wash all streaked and spotted by the rosin that was in the common yellow soap.

If Mrs. Henderson will have it washed again with Easy Task soap, which has no rosin in it to streak and rot the fabric, then to one it will look like new. Easy Task does wonders for the clothes and for the women who work. Costs no more than poor soaps.

GIRL TENDED BAR; FATHER IN COURT

Illness in the family of Dryies Apolson, a foreigner, in West Newark, got him into trouble Friday because his wife was unable to "tend bar" during his diurnal hour. Apolson got his wife's sister, Mary Steve, a young girl, to stay in the place for a short time until he got his supper. Mrs. Apolson was at the bedside of a sick child and was unable to relieve her husband.

Police officers found the young girl on duty and ordered Apolson to report to Mayor Swartz Saturday morning. The matter was explained to the foreigner so he can be governed accordingly in the future.

The law prohibits the employment of bar maids in saloons and Apolson was told that his wife could relieve him but no other woman could be permitted to "sling suds" over the bar at any time. The charge against him was dismissed.

TAYLOR REUNION.

The reunion of the descendants of Judge William Taylor was held at the beautiful Davis-Armstrong home on the Hebron road Thursday, September 12th. Though the attendance was not so large as on former occasions—forty-three were present—a most enjoyable time was had.

The day was delightful and an excellent picnic dinner was served on the spacious lawn.

Those present from a distance were Mrs. William Davis of Columbus, Mrs. Stella Davis and son Lucius and family of Groveport, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Winegarner of Reynoldsburg, Mrs. Thomas Lynn and son Mack Lynn of Zanesville, and Horace Lynn of Kansas City.

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blessing.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

San Antonio, Texas.—"To all women who desire to have children in their homes and to be well and happy I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a displacement and other female weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only remedy that ever helped me, and now I am a happy mother and highly recommend your medicine to all my friends." Mrs. A. B. MARTINEZ, 121 S. Laredo St., San Antonio, Texas.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way." Mrs. J. J. STEWART, 299 Humboldt St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

TEST SUIT

posals. But the opponents of the amendments assert that this total does not represent the true maximum, which will be shown only by the aggregate number of ballots cast in the state.

They say that it is possible that many of the electors did not vote either way upon the equal suffrage proposition. As stated, the nine amendments set out did not receive a majority as shown upon the basis of the suffrage vote. It is quite possible that there will be others in jeopardy when the actual total vote is established.

The point is made that the constitution provides that amendments to itself must be made by a majority of all the electors voting at the time they are voted.

On the other side the contention is made that each amendment was submitted separately, but the rejoinder is that there was but one ballot. It is insisted that those who did not vote either way upon all of the proposals took part in the election. The returns on the liquor license proposal show that 132,110 fewer votes were cast upon it than upon the equal suffrage proposal. If this contention is upheld, the minority of the license proposal will be most decisive.

Friends of the proposals adopted assert that there is no warrant for this attack. They assert that the convention was acting under Article 16, Section 3, and not under Section 1 of the same article.

Section 2 relates to the convention to be held every 20 years if the people favor it, and it distinctly provides, they say, that submissions may be adopted by a "majority vote of those voting therein."

Section 1 relates to amendments submitted by the general assembly. These must be voted upon at a general election, and it requires "a majority of the electors voting at such election" to adopt any proposed change.

There is a wide difference, it is claimed between these submissions. The rejoinder of the opposition is that all persons participating in an election either vote for a measure or against it or cast a blank ballot.

The blank ballots should be counted, they say, with the affirmative and the negative in computing the total.

As for the legal question raised regarding the right of the general assembly giving power to the convention to "fix and prescribe the time and form and manner of submitting the amendments," it has the distinction of being entirely new.

One step yet remains to make the results of the election final. Under the method of submission adopted by the constitutional convention the final returns must be canvassed by Secretary of State C. H. Graves and State Auditor E. M. Fullington in the presence of Governor Judson Harmon.

He is required to issue a proclamation declaring the results.

FIRST THINGS

The first English embassy to China, headed by Earl McCartney, arrived in Peking and was given an audience by the Emperor 119 years ago today. The Earl and his party remained in China until Oct. 7, when they were ordered to depart. As a result of the investigation carried on by the embassy, the first definite knowledge of Chinese government, population and resources was given to Europe. The empire was at that time divided into fifteen provinces, containing 4,402 walled cities, and had a population of 323,000,000. The army was reported to consist of a million infantry and 800,000 horse and the report continued, "Learning, and the arts and sciences are encouraged, and ethics studied." The next embassy to China from England was sent in 1816, but failed of its purpose, owing to Lord Amherst's refusal to prostrate himself before the Emperor.

AVIATOR FREEMAN IN WRIGHT AIRSHIP

shine. This attraction was secured at heavy expense in fact, at a cost of nearly twice as much as other attractions would have charged. The committee wanted the best in the market, and so contracted with the famous inventors of the aeroplane, thus being guaranteed good results. The Wright Company will send two aeroplanes and two aviators to Newark. Trial flights will be made on the opening of the fair, and two flights will be made on Oct. 2, 3 and 4. Each flight will be not less than eight minutes and may continue for a half hour, the time depending upon condition of the wind and weather. Foreman will fly through the air at the speed of one mile a minute, will circle the city and the territory surrounding the fair ground. As an aeroplane has not been exhibited in Newark the daily flights of the airship will be a novelty to the great majority of Licking county people.

On the second day of the fair the business men propose to give a big parade to be participated in by merchants, manufacturers, labor organizations, automobilists and others. The prizes will be announced later.

Thursday, Oct. 3, is to be Governor's Day. Congressman James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio, has accepted an invitation to be present and General R.

tribution throughout the county. Newspapers within a radius of 30 miles will advertise the fair and the aeroplane flights, and on Wednesday and Thursday, the next week, automobile parties under the direction of the advertising committee will visit a great many towns in this territory, distributing advertising matter and speaking in the interest of the coming fair. They are following the idea of the Geo-Columbus Centennial Commission which sent a special car with speakers all over the Ohio Electric traction lines.

Already a half dozen men have volunteered the use of their cars and have agreed to give a day to the cause. Two more have offered to give a day and their names are advertised the fair are Messrs. E. M. Baugher, A. R. Lindo, O. C. Jones, Phil Vogelmeier, J. J. Farmer and Henry S. Fleek. More cars are needed and volunteers are wanted.

The territory has been divided into four routes, north, south, east and west. Two or more cars are to be sent in each direction. Advertising matter is to be distributed on the way and stops are to be made in each town where they are to be made. They will address the citizens and call upon many of the merchants as possible. Everybody will be invited to come to Newark Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4.
